

Orlando  Winter Park Branchline

GUEST SPEAKER

Paul Chapman is Professor of Humanities and Peace Studies at Valencia College. He also serves as the Winter Park Campus Coordinator for the college's Peace and Justice Institute. He attended Florida State University where he received a B.A. in Humanities and an M.A. in International Affairs.

While in Graduate school, he worked at Capital City Youth Services, an emergency runaway shelter located in Tallahassee, Florida. This intersection of cultural and international studies, plus three years of social work, sparked a strong and vibrant passion to learn more about the complexities and nuances embedded in human rights, civil rights, peace and conflict. These experiences, among others, led Paul to Valencia where he has been teaching since August 1998.

On the twentieth anniversary of his teaching career, in 2018, Paul took a sabbatical to study civil rights history in more depth. He spent four months reading books and traveling to several Southern states, going to some of the most significant cities, museums and historical sites related to our history of segregation and the struggle for civil rights. He continues to listen, learn, read, and speak about these topics out of a genuine need to know and understand.

FEBRUARIUS

February gets its name from a Roman festival of purification that was held on the fifteenth of the month. The festival was a great success, most Romans eating and drinking themselves into a stupor. However, a few purer-than-thou types, like the Vestal Virgins, would have no part of it. In the original Roman calendar, February was the last month of the year, preceding January. What was gained by the shift is anybody's guess.

[Februarius is also Black History Month. See pages 4 and 7 for three notable women of color you've probably never heard of. ed.]

From the President

Black, Brown, Red, Yellow, White. February is a colorful month.

It is Black History Month and many activities are taking place in Central Florida to celebrate both the historical and contemporary achievements of African-Americans. Concurrently, Florida legislative committees are rapidly approving bills that limit how various race-related concepts are discussed in classrooms and the workplace (House Judiciary Committee approved HB 7; Senate Education Committee approved SB 148). The stated objective is that students should not feel 'discomfort, guilt or anguish, or any other form of psychological distress on account of his or her race' but the reality of objective information is that it can elicit these feelings. Clearly, these laws are in direct opposition to free speech and place limits on discussing topics from the social injustice of segregation to contemporary health disparities.

February 1 is the Celebration of Chinese and Korean New Year. Many groups are taking added security measures during the celebrations because anti-Asian hostilities have been on the rise since COVID was referred to as 'the Chinese Virus' and people are unable to distinguish the nationality or ethnicity of Asians who have been targeted.

February 14 is Valentine's Day (Saint Valentine's Day or the Feast of Saint Valentine). It originated as a Christian feast day honoring one or two early Christian martyrs named Saint Valentine and, through later folk traditions, has become a significant cultural, religious, and commercial celebration of romance and love in many regions of the world and by most Americans. We traditionally associate the color red with this holiday. It is also the day that The President of the National Congress of American Indians (historically and pejoratively "Red Men") will present the State of Indian Nations address to members of Congress, government officials, tribal leaders and citizens, and the American public.

The multicultural, racial and ethnic history of New Orleans has been an admixture of African slaves, French, Irish and Italian immigrants, Native Americans and most recently Latinos. February 17, 2022, is the start of Mardi Gras or Fat Tuesday, the Carnival celebration that begins on or after the Christian feasts of the Epiphany (Three Kings Day) and culminates on the day before Ash Wednesday.

The history of classifying people by reference to skin color was common in classical antiquity and was promulgated in 17th century Europe via rabbinical literature. Later, scientists Carl Linnaeus, Johann Friedrich Blumenbach, and others systematized the classification of humans with skin color as a prominent feature. Even today the US Census and legal documents use 'Black' and 'White.' Genetic data demonstrate that there are no pure races or strict biological divisions. These are biological fiction but racist reality.

I am ending this column with a song, Bleed Red, written by Andrew Dorff and Tommy Lee James and sung by Ronnie Dunn that reminds us of our singular humanity.

We all bleed red,
We all taste rain,
All fall down,
Lose our way,
We all say words we regret,
We all cry tears, we all bleed red

Leslie Sue Lieberman, Ph.D.

Orlando/Winter Park Branch Policy Regarding COVID-19 (12/7/21)

1. You must be vaccinated to attend any Orlando/Winter Park Branch activity.
2. Virtual options (Zoom) for activities will be made available when feasible.
3. Masks must be worn at all times at activities with the exceptions of: a) when people are eating and drinking and b) all group members agree it is safe to unmask (e.g., outdoor activities with social distancing).
4. This policy will be reviewed and changes may be made by the Board as new information or circumstances regarding COVID-19 become available.

Imagine how scary it must have been setting off from home in the olden days knowing that if something went wrong, you would be completely stranded with no way to call for help. People who lived in the 1980s before cell phones, were sooo brave.

20th ANNUAL LITERARY
LUNCHEON
MARCH 5, 2022

GUEST SPEAKER
KRISTIN HARMEL

Kristin Harmel is a New York Times and USA Today best-selling author who has written over a dozen novels, which have been translated into twenty-nine languages and sold all over the world. At our 20th Annual literary Luncheon, Kristin will speak on her latest heart-wrenching and suspenseful novel, The Forest of Vanishing Stars.

Kristin grew up in Peabody, MA, Worthington, OH, and St. Petersburg, FL. At the age of 16, she gained her first professional writing experience as a sports reporter for the St. Petersburg Times while attending Northeast High School in St. Petersburg.

After stints covering health and lifestyle for American Baby, Men's Health, and Woman's Day, she became a reporter for PEOPLE magazine while still in college. She then spent more than a decade writing for the publication, covering everything from the Super Bowl to high profile celebrity interviews. Her favorite stories at PEOPLE were the "Heroes Among Us," featuring tales of ordinary people doing extraordinary things. In addition to a long magazine writing career (which included articles published in Travel & Leisure, Glamour, Ladies' Home Journal, Every Day with Rachel Ray, and more), Kristin was also a frequent contributor to the national television morning show The Daily Buzz.

Kristin graduated summa cum laude with a degree in journalism from the University of Florida. After spending time living in Paris and Los Angeles, she now lives in Orlando with her husband and young son. A list of her books include:

The Forest of Vanishing Stars 2021

Book of Lost Names 2020

The Winemaker's Wife 2019

The Room on Rue Amelie 2018

When We Meet Again 2016

How to Save a Life 2016

The Life Intended 2014

The Snow Globe 2012

After 2010

Italian for Beginners 2009

When You Wish 2008

The Blonde Theory 2007

The Art of French Kissing 2007

How to Sleep with a Movie Star 2006

The Forest of Vanishing Stars* by Kristin Harmel may be purchased at the Writer's Block Bookstore: 316 N. Park Avenue, Winter Park or on Amazon.

See last 2 pages for flyer and reservation form.

Here are some facts you probably never knew about our first and 16th presidents:

George had an aversion to handshaking, believing that it was beneath a president's dignity, so he always received visitors with a courtly bow. Even his best friends never rated a handshake.

Washington was not a very good public speaker. In fact, he never read his famous Farewell Address—he had it printed in a newspaper.

George Washington may be the father of our country, but he never got along with his own mother. His mother Mary constantly sponged off him and criticized him so often that eventually he made it clear that she was to stay away from Mount Vernon. She died in 1789 at the age of 81 and was buried in an unmarked grave.

Contrary to popular belief, Lincoln did not write the Gettysburg Address on the back of an envelope on his way to that town. He wrote it two weeks in advance and rewrote it several times, on White House stationery.

Although the Gettysburg Address became one of our most famous speeches in U.S. history, the press at the time panned him for it, the Chicago Times referring to it as "silly, dishwashy utterances."

20 Years and Going Strong!

On March 5th our AAUW Branch will be hosting our 20th Annual Spring Literary Luncheon. What a landmark accomplishment! As an organization, we have been holding this fundraising event for 20 years, and the proceeds have been used for education for women.

AAUW's roots are deep in Education for women as the primary means to gain equality. In fact, the first founders of AAUW in 1881 were seeking only that—equal access to higher education. The struggles for equal access to the ballot box, the jury box, property rights, and equity in all aspects of employment all came later when our education revealed to us just what we were being denied.

To honor that original mission, we have held this fundraising luncheon for 20 years. With proceeds from our silent auction and 50/50 drawing our Scholarship Fund has been strengthened. Here are some of our accomplishments that further this mission:

- ◆ Branch scholarships for women seeking post-secondary degrees. Over these past two decades, we can be proud of all of the scholarships and assistance given to women seeking Bachelors, Masters and Doctoral studies.
- ◆ Sponsorship of collegiate women student leaders to attend NCCWSL, the most prestigious National Conference for College Women Student Leaders. The conference is an essential experience for any student serious about creating a meaningful impact on her campus, mobilizing her community, and preparing for professional success after graduation. Our Branch usually sends several students each year to the Conference. Reflect on our sponsorship's impact over the years.

- ◆ Sponsorship of Next Step Grants for PACE girls who want to pursue college, training, or a certificate program.
- ◆ Additionally, our Branch Board, with proceeds from the luncheon, has allocated funding to support various National funds like the Eleanor Roosevelt Fund for educational research or the Education Outreach Fund, specifically for Ph.D. studies which include community outreach.

Through your support of the literary luncheon, we have been able to achieve so much! Please make every effort to attend our Branch's only major fundraiser. Your support is vital to the success of this event and our AAUW mission. All proceeds go to a very worthy cause and enables AAUW to continue its mission to advance equity for women and girls through education.

Looking forward to seeing you at the luncheon,

For Black History Month, we have chosen to honor a woman that most of us have never heard of, but whose invention we use every time we enter or leave our homes.

Marie Van Brittan Brown was born on October 22, 1922, in Queens, New York. In 1966, Brown was inspired to make the home security system, due to the high crime rate in her neighborhood, and the slow police response. She wanted to be able to see and talk to the person and notify the authorities with the push of a button. The monitor could be placed anywhere in the house and you would be able to see who was at the door and talk to them. If someone felt threatened or felt it was an intruder, they could press a button and the police would be notified immediately. Her invention gained well-deserved attention, and she then went on to win an award from the National Scientists Committee.

Her daughter, Norma Brown, followed in her footsteps also becoming an inventor with more than ten patented inventions, including a sensor shoe for monitoring the condition of the foot, a safety walker for a baby, and an innovative anti-rape device.

IN MEMORIAM

Sarah Cathryn Cawthon Messenger, 93, of Worthington, Ohio, passed away at home January 5, 2022. She was born on August 26, 1928. She passed on from this life peacefully and in the care of her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

Sarah was born and raised in DeFuniak Springs, Florida, where her family had been since the town was founded. She graduated from Florida State University with a BA and also pursued an MA there as well. She and Paul were married on August 26, 1951, in DeFuniak Springs, and, after a short stay in Columbia, SC, they settled in Paul's home town of Winter Park, Florida. After college she worked for seven years as a school teacher before becoming a stay-at home mother. She spent her final years living in Worthington, Ohio, with her son Bruce, his wife Karen, and their daughter Anne and her family in a four-generation household.

Through the years she was an active member of John Knox Presbyterian Church, Maitland Presbyterian Church, AAUW (American Association of University Women), and a number of book clubs. Gardening was always a major passion for her and she worked hard to fill her yard with beautiful flowers. Vacationing with family at the beach brought long lasting, happy memories. In addition to her human friends and family, she cared for and enjoyed many feline companions (and some canines).

Interment will be in the Cawthon Family plot in Magnolia Cemetery, Defuniak Springs, Florida.

[As a life member of 68 years, Cathy maintained her membership in our branch even after her move to Ohio. Over the years, we had the opportunity to work together on various interest groups and committees. Her easy-going manner made her a delight to work with. Her dedication to our branch will continue through an endowment to the Valencia College Foundation Scholarship Fund.* ed.]

If you wish to make a contribution in Cathy's memory, instructions follow:

(Make check payable to Valencia College Foundation, PO Box 3028, Orlando, FL 32802. Be sure to include AAUW Scholarship # 1178). Contributions will be applied to the 2023 year.)

* The Orlando/Winter Park AAUW Branch has an endowed scholarship at Valencia College (formerly Valencia Community College). In the past, it has been suggested for memorial contributions. We use the interest each year to award scholarships primarily to help women who are a bit older and returning to school to begin or complete a degree program.

Scholarships

The Scholarship Committee is currently reviewing 16 Valencia College Foundation AAUW Endowed Scholarship applications. As always, this is a difficult process, but rewarding in that we can assist students in pursuit of higher education, even in a small way. This year we have $1400 in interest to divide between our four chosen recipients. It covers the tuition for one class.

NOTE: Contributions to this fund help to increase the annual amount we have to disburse. For more information on how to make a contribution, contact Karen Buchan.

The deadline for our Orlando/Winter Park AAUW Branch Scholarship is March 1. I have already received nine applications from students at UCF and Florida Polytechnic University.

Recently we welcomed a new member to the committee, Suzanne Schneider.

ALWAYS – a big THANK YOU to the Committee: Ellen James, Barbara Knapp, Sherry Kragler, Sue McDonald, and Suzanne Schneider.

Another honoree for Black History Month is Dr. Patricia Bath. If you had, or plan on having your cataracts removed, you owe a debt of thanks to Dr. Bath.

During her training, Dr. Bath, who grew up in Harlem, documented racial disparities in access to eye care and worked throughout her career to make ophthalmic care more widely accessible.

When Dr. Bath had her “eureka” moment with a tool to fix cataracts in the 1980s, her supervisor was skeptical. By that point, she was used to being treated differently from her male counterparts in ophthalmology.

“I explained to the director what I had achieved, and he said: ‘You didn’t do that. That’s impossible,’” Dr. Bath said in an interview with Time.

She had discovered how to remove cataracts using a laser, making the surgery less invasive and more efficient. Her invention, which was patented in 1988 and would ultimately be called the Laserphaco probe, could eliminate cataracts — a clouding of the lens that can cause blindness — with a one-millimeter insertion into the patient’s eye.

A ROYAL TEA WORTHY OF A BRIDGERTON

Do you ever fantasize about living in the era of the Bridgertons? How about having tea while enjoying scones with clotted cream, delicate tea sandwiches and fancy pastries, deviled eggs with caviar, and Bellinis to toast to your friendships and good health! Here is your chance to step into Victoriana with a splendid afternoon Royal Tea. You and nine of your closest confidants can dress to the nines, don your fascinators, put on your white gloves, and attend a fabulous afternoon tea worthy of a Bridgerton.

At this year's Annual Literary Luncheon the Dining-In Group will offer a catered Royal Tea as a silent auction item. Winning bidder will enjoy a fabulous Royal Tea for ten guests in her home prepared by the Dining-In "chefs." And that's not all! Your own private butler, the infamous Kenny Lee, will elegantly serve and delight your guests. Don't miss your chance to bid on this delightful and delectable opportunity.

The Dining-In Group of ten discriminating foodies have been cooking together for over eight years and have traveled to Italy to enjoy hands-on cooking classes at Casa Gregorio, just south of Rome. Catered and exquisitely served, the following Royal Tea will be a truly memorable experience.

Please Note:

Opening bid for this Royal Tea for ten persons and butler service begins at $300.

Winning bid includes delivery of the Royal Tea for ten with butler service.

Only last-minute preparation and finishing touches will be done in the hostess's home.

The hostess will provide linens, flutes for champagne, luncheon size plates and cutlery.

The Dining-In Group will provide tea service items including teapots, cups, and tiered serving pieces.

SPEAKER: Kristin Harmel

Kristin Harmel is a New York Times and a USA Today best-selling author. She has written over a dozen novels that have been translated into 28 languages and sold all over the world.

Harmel will speak on her latest heart-wrenching and suspenseful novel, The Forest of Vanishing Stars, an evocative coming-of-age World War II story about a young woman who uses her knowledge of the wilderness to help Jewish refugees escape the Nazis-until a secret from her past threatens everything.

Inspired by real groups of Jewish refugees who hid in the forests to escape persecution during World War II, Harmel incorporated historical events in her novel, including what the forest refugees actually ate, the way they sheltered, and the way they fought back.
