

Orlando *** Winter Park BRANCHLINE

JANUARY

Florida is truly a hot-spot for biodiversity, and our speaker today makes it even hotter as a pyromaniac with a purpose! Jennifer Elliott, Program Director for the Arboretum and Natural Resources Programs, is in charge of many things, including controlled burns that are used to manage and sustain the ecology of the Arboretum, the 800 acres of UCF natural lands and other urban forestry initiatives.

She oversees all Arboretum research and educational initiatives, including experiential-based learning programs for students and community members.... like us! Ms. Elliott's undergraduate and graduate work was with sea turtles, and she had thought about becoming a veterinarian.

Although she has switched her focus to plants, her broad concerns are still habitat conservation and sustainability both on sea and now on land.

From the President

With the start of the new year, we look forward to new beginnings, in our own personal lives and those of our family, friends, and neighbors. Quotes abound on the start of a new year: Edith Lovejoy Pierce notes: We will open the book. Its pages are blank. We are going to put words on them ourselves. The book is called Opportunity and its first chapter is New Year's Day.

And Vern McLellan's short but pithy comment: what the new year brings to you will depend a great deal on what you bring to the new year.

And by Nido Qubein: Your present circumstances don't determine where you can go; they merely determine where you start.

Our AAUW branch was active this past year in advancing national AAUW programs, and with our local presentations of scholarships, grants, and access to programs such as TechTrek to students furthering their education and over 100 PACE students and families were served by our AAUW volunteers.

This coming year we have an excellent line-up of programs for our monthly breakfast meetings held at the First Congregational Church in Winter Park. This is also a good opportunity to socialize with fellow members.

At our General Meeting in December, our holiday program was NBT (Nothin' But Treble), an ensemble group that delighted our members with their unique harmonies and impressive clicking, snapping, and stomping.

So what are the odds? One of the members of NBT was the recipient of an AAUW scholarship in 1994! She attended Stetson where her fields of interest were sociology and theater. She went on to get an MFA and an M.A. in game design. She is a professor at Full Sail now in her 22nd year. She said that without the scholarship from AAUW, she wouldn't have been able to attend Stetson as she came from a poor family. I guess it proves that if you are able to click, snap, and stomp, you can easily master multiple life projects as well. (ed.)

Photos by Georgiana Havill. Sorry we couldn't use them all!. (ed.)

And in another instance of "What are the odds?"—New member Amy Gordon joined our branch after attending the November meeting.

Encouraged by her mother, then a member of AAUW, Amy applied for and received an AAUW scholarship in 1976! She went on to graduate from the University of Florida, where she majored in Interior Design and minored in Women's Studies. After college, she established her career as a commercial designer and now lives in Maitland. Several of our branch activities interest Amy, including the Scholarship Committee.

Amy's address, phone number, and email were not available at this time. Next month, we'll print more information about Amy.

PACE CENTER FOR GIRLS

On Monday, December 15, AAUW hosted a very special day for the girls at PACE. It started with a Pizza Party, moved on to the girls making cards for the holiday and ended with homemade cookies, presents, and generous gift cards. The girls were thrilled!

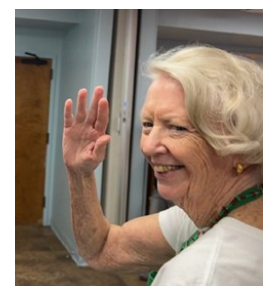

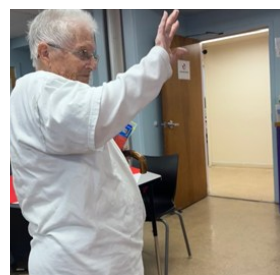

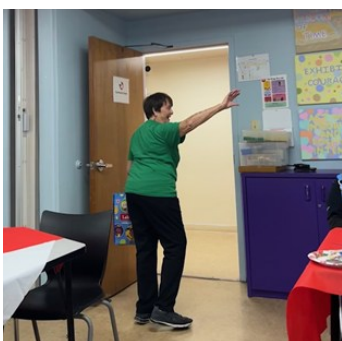

For more than 20 years, the women of AAUW have generously supported PACE Center for Girls Orange. Over the years, new students would be told by other girls about the wonderful events AAUW provided for them. All the girls looked forward to these occasions and enjoyed the festivities. And they appreciated the women who made them happen. This latest party was the same; several of the girls even made cards for us—their friends at AAUW.

Sadly the center is closing, but PACE is not totally leaving Orange County and AAUW is not abandoning the girls. Our friend Amber Proctor, who has been Program Director at PACE for more than 13 years, will continue to be employed by PACE and work with Orange County Public Schools. Once she begins her new position, we will consult with her on the best way to help the girls. Those girls who are seniors this year have been encouraged to apply for AAUW Next Step Grants as they plan their future.

Many, many thanks to all for your generosity over the years. Through your presence, your food, the books you bought, the library you organized, and your financial support, you have brought enjoyment and a sense of being cared for into the lives of so many girls. Thank you.

Anne, Barbara, Karen B, Karen G, Pat, Roberta, Sue and Susan

Thanks to Betsy Swart for submitting all the photos.

From Our Members

CALENDARS CALENDARS CALENDARS

I delivered the calendars contributed by AAUW sisters to The Plymouth Apartments in Winter Park in early December. I fanned them out on a table in their computer room and went out to the lobby to advise the receptionist that I had made the drop. She was delighted and said she had had several inquiries. "Are we getting calendars this year" people asked? As I walked in I mentioned the calendars to several residents and word spread quickly.

Never doubt that we are doing a great thing by gathering these colorful, educational, useful gifts and distributing them to elderly, disabled individuals and families of little means. They use them to decorate their apartments, keep track of appointments and happenings in their lives, and the calendars also offer opportunities for residents to interact with one another in a social setting. Nice job, ladies! You have my heartfelt gratitude yet again this year. (Article and photos Submitted by Lynda Hinckley.)

The Foreign Affairs group held their holiday lunch at the Blue Heron Restaurant in the Westminster Tower Building. The members were seated in a private room.

From the President

In addition, our group offers various activities that contribute to our knowledge and encourage fun and fellowship for our members—Booklovers, Exploring Central Florida, Foreign Affairs, Lunching Out and others which are noted in the BRANCHLINE – published monthly by our Editor, Linda Fessel.

Look forward to a good AAUW new year – and posing this little quiz: In what year did Christmas Day and New Year's Day fall in the same year?

In closing, I would like to offer best wishes to all for a new year that brings you all the good things you are hoping for.

Diana Secor, President
AAUW Orlando/Winter Park Branch

Elinor Parker

1937-2025

Originally from Massachusetts, Elinor Parker moved to Maitland via Miami in the early 2000s. She and her lifetime companion Gerson Sacks remodeled a house where she grew an enviable flower and herb garden attracting multiple birds.

A painter in oils, she favored the still life genre, especially vegetables. The Parker-Sacks home reflected her love of art, nature, books, film, music and deep comfort.

AAUW became an essential component of Elinor's life after Irene Pruzan introduced it to her in 2003. She immediately joined Booklovers II where she strongly influenced our choices of literary fiction for more than two decades. A few years later she joined Linda Fessel's Bridge Group which eventually evolved into a Mahjong Group. Elinor loved serving Thanksgiving dinners at the PACE Center for many years.

She often described her "second" life as a divorced woman in her forties. Transformed by feminist consciousness raising, she taught herself financial independence and returned to college. She earned a B.A. and an MSW, the latter in mental health counseling.

Elinor and Gerson moved to the Westminster Baldwin Park in 2020. He passed away early this year. She died on December 23 because of an aggressive untreatable lung cancer. Elinor left two brilliant daughters, their spouses and multiple grandchildren. Her memory will definitely be a blessing.

Martha H. Williamson

For 20 years, Elinor shared birthday celebrations with a close group of AAUW friends.

And when the group got silly, Elinor went right along.

With Joyce Z. at a literary luncheon

With Martha W. at the Menello

That streak of white hair on her forehead, her most distinctive physical feature, never changed in over two decades. We will miss her elegance, her charm, her intellect, her final act of bravery, and that unique identifying shock of white hair. Rest in peace, Dear Elinor.

Interest Groups

Booklovers:

With gratitude for member generosity, I am happy to share that Booklovers donated $400 to Second Harvest Food Bank of Central Florida last month. This month group leaders will again collect our annual $10 dues from each Booklover—more support to share in the community.

Our active participation continues in January as Booklovers nominate titles for the upcoming 2026-27 book ballot. Then voting in February will determine our selections for the next reading season.

A promising new year unfolds.

Booklovers is open to all AAUW members. If you'd like a chance to attend a Booklovers discussion and wish more information, please contact me, Missy Baker, Booklovers Coordinator, bakerworks@gmail.com.

Booklovers Lite: Booklovers Lite meets monthly on the last Wednesday at 1 p.m. The reading list is independent from those of the other book groups. # THE 24th ANNUAL SPRING LITERARY LUNCHEON

Hilton Hotel (350 South Northlake Blvd., Altamonte Springs, FL 32701)

GUEST SPEAKER

Eliza Knight,

Eliza Knight is an award-winning, USA Today and International bestselling author. Her books have been translated into multiple languages and, most recently, her title A Day of Fire has been optioned for television. She is also the creator of the popular historical blog, History Undressed, and hosts the History, Books and Wine Podcast. Eliza is an avid history buff, and her love of history began as a young girl when she traipsed the halls of Versailles. Her books take you through riveting historical journeys that cross landscapes around the world. In 2025, she will publish her first contemporary women's fiction novel under the pseudonym, Michelle Brandon.

Knight lives in the sunshine state with her husband, three daughters, a dog, a crab and a turtle.

At the 24th Annual Spring Literary Luncheon, Eliza Knight will speak on her latest novel, Confessions of a Grammar Queen as well as The Queen's Faithful Companion.

Eliza Knight's Confessions of a Grammar Queen is a quirky and heartwarming story of breaking glass ceilings. In the 1960s, there are no female publishing CEOs in New York City. Bernadette Swift, the book's spirited heroine, brings to life the struggles of women in the 60's who live in a Mad Men-esque, male-dominated workplace and must fight decades of sexism. You will enjoy the author's incredible research and perfect prose.

The Queen's Faithful Companion is an endearing and vivid novel told from unique multi-narrative viewpoints of a young Queen Elizabeth; Hannah Penwyck, the fictionalized Keeper of the Queen's dogs; and Susan, the Queen's Corgi, whose love and loyalty were boundless. Truly a heartwarming historical read with lots of humor, historical facts of a beloved Queen and her pet.
