BRANCHLINE*SPEAKER
MR. MARK COOPER*“Unknown Heroines of the Civil Rights Movement”

February is African-American History month when we recall some of the darkest times in American history and celebrate the resistance and persistence of African-Americans, their achievements and the promises of greater equity and equality. Last year, we had a presentation and co-sponsored a riveting production of the Fannie Lou Hamer Story.

Our presenter this month, Mr. Mark Cooper, will focus on other little-known or unsung heroines of the civil rights movement.

As a young person growing up in the south, Mr. Cooper recognized the pervasiveness of racial disparities and decided to learn about its historical basis and to share this information in an annual Martin Luther King Day presentation for the University Club and for other organizations. He received a Bachelors degree in government from Indiana University, and a law degree from the University of Georgia. Although his practice of over 40 years was primarily complex business litigation, he would occasionally be involved in civil rights litigation for the ACLU. He is well known in central Florida and the past president of the University Club of Winter Park. It is a heartfelt presentation for Valentine's Day.

Submitted by Leslie Sue Lieberman, Ph.D.

Jennifer Elliott was our guest speaker in January. Her talk about the UCF Arboretum provided the impetus for organizing a tour to explore the gardens. More about that later.

THIS IS VERY TIME SENSITIVE as the Nominations are scheduled to be presented at the April Meeting and new officers sworn in at the May Meeting.

As you all know we are going full-speed ahead for our MAJOR fundraiser for our Scholarship Fund-- our 24th AAUW SPRING LITERARY LUNCHEON, on March 21, at the Altamonte Hilton with speaker Eliza Knight – who is a USA Today journalist and international bestselling American author known for her historical fiction and romance fiction novel series taking place in 15th to 19th century Europe. We look forward to a “full house” attendance at this important—and Fun-- event!

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

If you haven't gotten lost recently, you can thank Gladys Mae West.

She was born in rural Virginia in 1930, grew up working on a tobacco farm, and died earlier this month a celebrated mathematician whose work made possible the GPS technology most of us use each and every day. Hers was a distinctively American life, in more ways than one. Seeking an escape from the agricultural labor she'd already gotten to know all too well, she won a scholarship to Virginia State College by becoming her high school class valedictorian. After earning her bachelor's and master's degrees in mathematics, she taught for a time and then applied for a job at the naval base up in Dahlgren. She first distinguished herself there by verifying the accuracy of bombing tables with a hand calculator and, from there, moved on up to the computer programming team.

Stories like hers have drawn much greater public interest since the success of Hidden Figures, the Hollywood adaptation about the black female mathematicians at NASA during the Space Race. When that movie came out in 2016, even West's own children didn't know the importance of the once-classified work she'd done. Only in 2018, when she provided that information on a biographical form she filled out for an event hosted by her college sorority, did it become public. She thus spent the last years of her long life as a celebrity, sought out by academics and journalists eager to understand the contributions of another no-longer-hidden figure. But to their questions about her own GPS use, she reportedly answered that she preferred a good old-fashioned paper map.

From the Literary Luncheon Chair

On March 21, our Branch will host and celebrate the 24th Annual Spring Literary Luncheon at the Hilton Hotel, Altamonte Springs. This wonderful tradition is one we can be proud of since it enables us to provide local scholarships to women from the event's proceeds. Over the last two decades, through your support, our Branch has been able to provide numerous scholarships to women. Since 2016, in a ten-year period, we have provided over 40 scholarships to women and girls. That is commendable!

Recently, AAUW released U.S. Census data stating the gender pay gap for women working full time earned just 81 cents for every dollar paid to men. For women of color, the disparity is even more alarming. We must refuse a future where women are left behind.

Please make every effort to attend and support our Branch's wonderful signature event. It is our organization's only fundraiser. All proceeds go to a worthy cause and enables AAUW to continue its mission to advance equity for women through education.

A snapshot of the 24th Annual Spring Literary Luncheon's festivities includes:

Eliza Knight, an award-winning, USA Today and International bestselling author, will speak on her latest book, The Confessions of a Grammar Queen as well as The Queen's Faithful Companion. She will also be available to sign her books.

The Confessions of a Grammar Queen, along with several other books will be available for signage and purchase.

The Hilton Hotel welcomes our guests with a beautiful facility that has ample parking, easy access, and the capacity to seat over 200 guests. Hope the house will be filled with members and guests to this annual event.

A delicious Spring-influenced sit-down luncheon will be served at 11:45 am. Wine and cocktails will be available from the cash bar. Either your credit card or cash will be welcomed.

A fabulous silent auction is planned with baskets, gift cards, and other exciting items. The format of the auction has changed. Raffle tickets will be sold for most of the auction items. You can purchase 3 tickets for $10 or 8 tickets for $20.

Besides the lovely baskets and individual silent auction objects, there will be two items for actual bid: (1) An over-the-top five-course gourmet dinner prepared by the Dining-In Group, delivered to your home and served by your own private butler; and (2) A two-night relaxing stay at the Hilton Hotel, Altamonte Springs, with breakfast included.

Our traditional 50/50 raffle is also planned.

The doors at the Hilton Hotel will open at 10:30 a.m. That will allow you time to socialize, browse the auction items, enjoy a cocktail or glass of wine, and purchase one of Eliza Knight's books and get it signed.

Submitted by Myra Gaziano

Silent auction items, gift cards and baskets are needed for our 24th Annual Literary Luncheon to be a success. AAUW members and interest groups, please consider donating items or soliciting businesses you frequent for gift cards. Businesses such as stores, restaurants, beauty and nail salons and others may consider donating to AAUW and its educational mission for women. You may even consider regifting something desirable that others would like to bid on. Small items such as a bottle of wine or a box of wonderful chocolates can be combined with other items.

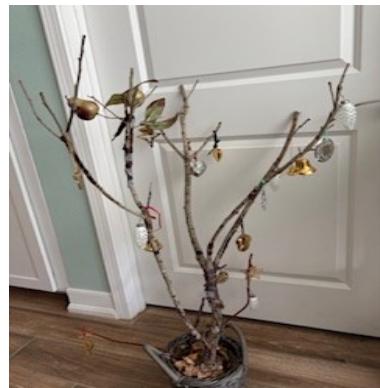

Please bring your items or baskets to the AAUW General Meeting on Feb. 14. An alternate drop-off time and place will be announced. Your contributions are needed and greatly appreciated. On the donated items, please put the name of the donor and include the list of item(s) donated. Questions may be directed to Leslie Lieberman at Lslieberman@gmail.com

You can find the flyer, reservation form and seating form after the calendar. Print them out as needed to make your reservation.

From Our Members

If you look up "Charlie Brown Christmas tree" on Amazon, you'll find many examples like this one. Rosemary has her own version at Christmastime. She searches for a dead branch, trims it, then attaches objects that have meaning to her. It's a lovely tradition. All we can say is: "Eat your heart out, Lucy!"

THE 24th ANNUAL SPRING LITERARY LUNCHEON

Saturday, March 21, 2026

11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Hilton Hotel (350 South Northlake Blvd., Altamonte Springs, FL 32701)

Cost: $65

GUEST SPEAKER

Eliza Knight,

Eliza Knight is an award-winning, USA Today and International bestselling author. Her books have been translated into multiple languages and, most recently, her title A Day of Fire has been optioned for television. She is also the creator of the popular historical blog, History Undressed, and hosts the History, Books and Wine Podcast. Eliza is an avid history buff, and her love of history began as a young girl when she traipsed the halls of Versailles. Her books take you through riveting historical journeys that cross landscapes around the world. In 2025, she will publish her first contemporary women's fiction novel under the pseudonym, Michelle Brandon.

Knight lives in the sunshine state with her husband, three daughters, a dog, a crab and a turtle.

At the 24th Annual Spring Literary Luncheon, Eliza Knight will speak on her latest novel, Confessions of a Grammar Queen as well as The Queen's Faithful Companion.

Eliza Knight's Confessions of a Grammar Queen is a quirky and heartwarming story of breaking glass ceilings. In the 1960s, there are no female publishing CEOs in New York City. Bernadette Swift, the book's spirited heroine, brings to life the struggles of women in the 60's who live in a Mad Men-esque, male-dominated workplace and must fight decades of sexism. You will enjoy the author's incredible research and perfect prose.

The Queen's Faithful Companion is an endearing and vivid novel told from unique multi-narrative viewpoints of a young Queen Elizabeth; Hannah Penwych, the fictionalized Keeper of the Queen's dogs; and Susan, the Queen's Corgi, whose love and loyalty were boundless. Truly a heartwarming historical read with lots of humor, historical facts of a beloved Queen and her pet.
